Jennie Emery Families,

Obviously, these are unprecedented times we are now facing. As a school, we will do our best to work with you through these situations.

Some of the questions we are currently discussing are:

1. How will we provide resources, materials, and learning for our students?
2. What is the essential learning that we need to cover to prepare our students for the next grade?

Over the next few days, we will work together as a staff to answer these questions.

We understand that there may be things at the school that you would like to retrieve. Palliser is asking that parents DO NOT try and come to the school at this time. We will develop a plan to allow families to gather essential belongings.

We will not make any attempt to communicate information about the virus itself. We are definitely not experts in this area and will direct you to Alberta Health Services for this type of information.

I am confident the staff here at Jennie Emery will do a great job of helping our children to continue learning the important outcomes necessary to move forward.

Take care and stay safe,

Curtis Uyesugi, Principal
